

Invest In Your Future And Prepare For Medical, PA, Pharmacy, or Nursing School With a Clinical Medical Assistant Certification (CCMA)

WHY CHOOSE CLINICAL MEDICAL ASSISTANT?

This course combines various essential patient care skills into one expert curriculum that will prepare you to work alongside providers as you help treat and care for diverse patients across numerous specialties and healthcare settings as a certified clinical medical assistant (CCMA).

Clinical Medical Assistants are reported to be one of the fastest-growing occupations. A CCMA is usually found working in outpatient clinics and private doctor's offices. They are an integral part of the medical team and contribute to the flow of patient care through a wide range of duties, including obtaining detailed patient history, obtaining vital signs, administering point of care testing, medications, injections, and vaccinations.

They also assist with various clinical procedures, including minor surgical in-office interventions that require sterile protocol. Furthermore, they prepare patients for X-rays, take electrocardiograms, remove sutures, conduct wound care, change dressings, collect specimens and order proper laboratory studies, etc. They also facilitate communication between the patient and other healthcare professionals.

This fully online clinical medical assistant training and certification course is an 8-week self-paced program ideal for pre-health students seeking clinical and direct patient care experience in diverse medical specialties before starting/ applying to medical, PA, pharmacy, or nursing school.
